

CHF 206.6 mn

turnover

In 2023, SUISA's turnover consisted of revenues from the authors' rights and secondary income.

CHF 173.5 mn

for authors and publishers

In 2023, SUISA reported revenues of CHF 173.5 mn which were passed on to publishers, lyricists and composers.

CHF 2.9 mn

for the music promotion

In 2023, SUISA promoted Swiss music, allocating CHF 2.9 mn for this purpose to the FONDATION SUISA. From this, composers and lyricists profited.

223

employees

SUISA serves the needs of its members and clients with a staff of 223 employees, corresponding to 186.3 fulltime jobs.

CHF 87 per CHF 100

for the artists

For each CHF 100 in revenues, SUISA distributes CHF 87 to rightsholders.

3,478,789

declarations of works

SUISA has received 3,478,789 declarations of works in 2023. This demonstrates how active composers are.

>100

sister societies

In Switzerland, SUISA represents the world repertoire of music, and clears authors' rights with over 100 sister societies worldwide.

CHF 13.1 mn

broadcasts

In 2023, SUISA licensed around 13.1 mn radio and television broadcasts. More than 450,000 works were broadcast in total.

CHF 8.6 mn

for social security

7.5% of the revenues from performance and broadcasting rights in Switzerland and Liechtenstein are contributed to the social security of our members. In 2023, this represented CHF 8.6 mn.

CHF 42.4 mn

administration expenses

Secondary income (CHF 18.0 mn) covers a portion of the expenses. The rest is financed by deducting a contribution from the settlements distributed to beneficiaries. This cost-coverage deduction was 12.8% on average.